COMMENTS

We are a new company, the USA affiliate of an established Spent Acid Battery (SLAB) recycler in Europe. Parent company name is RecuPbat BVBA in Antwerp, Belgium. The intent of the USA affiliate, is the purchase of quantities of SLABs in the USA and export them to approved smelters/refineries within the EU. As such, the USA affiliate does not take physical possession of the SLABs, but arranges qualified and complaint transportation firms to transport the goods from approved scrap dealer sites to the port of export. We do not have a storage site only an office where we complete administrative tasks. however, we believe we need an EPA Identification number in order to apply for EPA export consent and for the general recognition by trading partners.
